SNOW JOB was what nature did to Bowling Green, and the state of Ohio. It began snowing hard Wednesday night and continued sporadically through Sunday. Bowling Green was one of several cities that was isolated Friday evening. There was only one thing left to do—shovel.

Crippling Storm Disturbs University Affairs

Bad Weather Cancels Sports, Stops Traffic, Starts Rumors

Snowbound? Not quite, but almost. This was Christmas week, end at Bowling Green. Christmas card beauty produced by the snow that crippled northern Ohio was appropriate but almost meant disaster for the campus and surrounding territory. Proportions of the storm became evident Friday when commuting students, professors, cooks, and other employees couldn't reach the University. In fact, traffic was crippled in the northern third of Ohio.

Trucks, cars, and tractor-trailers lined the highways running through Bowling Green. Marooned travelers stayed in homes, hotels, and public institutions. Findlay, Lima, and Fostoria were under limited emergency status. Officers discouraged all but the most necessary traffic on U.S. 25 from Perrysburg through Bowling Green to Lima.

Traffic at Standstill

Traffic on U.S. 6 also was at a standstill. Schools were closed, freeing many student teachers on Friday and some yesterday.

Cleveland area was hit by a storm described as the worst in 12 years. Snow depths ranged from 24 inches to five inches. Brunswick and Chagrin Falls, Cleveland suburbs, declared a state of emergency.

AAUP Passes Affair's Report

The local chapter of the American Association of University Professors approved a report on student affairs at its meeting Thursday.

Major items discussed in the report are, student dismissals from the University, student discipline in general, student government, student representation on committees, the drinking of alcoholic beverages on campus, and other regulatory functions of the University.

The report is to be sent to the Trustees of the University. They are, however, in no way bound by the recommendations, since the AAUP is in no way officially affiliated with the University.

"We state things as we see them," said Dr. Brian Sutton-Smith, president of the University chapter. "The value of the report is that it gives the University an alternative policy to follow," added Dr. Sutton-Smith.

"Many of the proposals represent significant departures from or additions to existing regulations," reported Dr. Gilbert Abcarian, secretary, and member of the executive committee of the chapter.

The contents of the report are to be made public sometime this week.

Walker Gives Contest Rules

"Twenty-five dollars will be awarded to the student who submits the winning design for the cover for the 1963 University Catalogue," announced Mr. Albert Walker, editor of the University's publications.

Students wishing to enter competition should bring their designs to the Publications Office, 216 Administration Bldg., before Christmas recess.

"However, designs will be accepted if mailed from home in an envelope bearing a 1962 postmark," Mr. Walker added.

The design must prominently display the name of the University. Lesser importance should be given to the following: Announcements for 1963-64, Bulletin, and Bowling Green, Ohio. "Also, the design should contain the University Seal," Mr. Walker said.

Proportions should conform to the size of the catalogue, six by nine inches. "Two colors and reverse lettering, white on a dark background, may be used," he added.

Dorms Close On Saturday

All residence halls, sorority, and fraternity houses will be closed for the Christmas recess at 5 p.m., Saturday, and will reopen at noon, Wednesday, Jan. 2, announced Robert G. Rudd, director of housing.

The individual dining halls will be closed after the noon meal on Saturday and will reopen for the evening meal on Jan. 2.

Limited accommodations are available for students who cannot leave campus during this vacation period. An student concerned should contact the Housing Office immediately.

Contrary to many rumors flying about campus Saturday, Les Elgart did manage to get here by bus for the Christmas formal Saturday night. Not so fortunate were the dates who had to travel far.

By Sunday rumors of early dismissal, food shortages, and fuel shortages were rampant.

Harshman Dashes Hopes

President Ralph G. Harshman dashed the hopes of many when he said, "As things now stand, there will be no early dismissal. It would be rather ridiculous to dismiss 7,000 students who would have to travel in these hazardous conditions."

As to a food shortage, Mr. A. Inghram Milliron, director of food services, said, "There is no food

Unseasonably cold temperatures and snow flurries are predicted in this area for today and the rest of the week by the Toledo Weather Bureau.

Today should be partly cloudy and cold with snow flurries and a high in the 20's. Winds which have been drifting the snow should diminish. Wednesday's prediction is mostly cloudy with some snow.

At the present time another cold front is moving into the Plains states and toward the Lakes region. With the front more snow flurries are expected.

problem. The problem is in getting persons to prepare it. We have enough food to last quite a while although I can't really say how long."

Police and maintenance were perhaps the hardest hit. "We have been busy all the time," stated Patrolman Gene Bradley. Their duties have included checking road conditions regularly, checking accident, and conducting slippery walk victims to the health center.

The accumulation of snow replaced the scheduled sports events with both impromptu and planned snowfights all over the campus.

Four Injured in Fight

Four students were injured during a freshman vs. fraternities snowball fight which began at 1 a.m., Saturday. The fight took place on the basketball courts behind Conklin Hall and lasted only a few minutes before University police called it to halt.

Most seriously injured was a student who was hit in the face with a piece of ice. He may lose the sight in one of his eyes.

Another student, after being struck by a snowball, received a two-inch laceration on his forehead. A third student is reported to have sprained an ankle, while a fourth sustained a black eye.

The police said that there no reports of property damaged as a result of the snow battle. Names of those injured were not disclosed.

No Fuel Shortage

"We will not have a fuel shortage for at least a month," F. Eugene Beatty, director of maintenance, said yesterday. "We always keep a 30 days supply of coal."

In order to help University employees, maintenance set up housing for those employees who live out of town. Crews have been working around the clock to remove the snow.

A broken water line running to old fraternity row added to the work load. From 2 p.m. until midnight Sunday the row was without water.

Peter, Paul, Mary To Entertain Jan. 17

Who are Peter Yarrow, Paul Stookey, and Mary Allin Travers? Shorten it to Peter, Paul, and Mary—one of the best-known folk sing groups in the country!

Peter, Paul, and Mary will appear in the ball room at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, Jan. 17. Tickets for their performance will go on sale Monday, Jan. 14, in the lobby of the Union. The tickets will cost $1.50, $1.25, and $1.

Peter, Paul, and Mary have recorded "The Lemon Tree," "Five Hundred Miles," and "The Hammer Song." They also have recorded an album entitled "Peter, Paul, and Mary."

Before he joined the folk-singing group Peter was appearing as a single folk singer on a tour that included the "Newport Folk Festival, 1960," the "Gate of Horn," in Chicago, and the "Ash Grove," in Los Angeles.

Paul was doing stand-up comic routines in the Village and helping Mary get started as a singer again after a flop on Broadway with Mort Sahl, called "The Next President."

Peter Yarrow, tenor of the trio, earned his psychology degree at Cornell University, where he was an instructor in a folk ballad course. Immediately preceding his acceptance of a position with a television research firm, Peter decided he couldn't go on "compromising."

He explained "At the last minute I decided it wouldn't work. I had been something of a heretic at college, but I had compromised for the sake of my education. If I had compromised any longer, I'd have only contempt for myself."

Born in Birmingham, Mich., Paul Stookey, baritone of the trio, thumped an electric guitar for a high school rock 'n roll group on local television and emceed his way through Michigan State University. After working in a photography shop in Pennsylvania, Paul migrated to New York and was soon the highest paid entertainer in the Village.

Mary Allin Travers, is a "tall, willowy blonde with a tall willowy voice." Mary sang with teenage folk groups that made it to Carnegie Hall twice and cut three records. Her spot in the chorus of the ill-fated "The Next President" lasted only two weeks on Broadway in the 1957 season. Mary met Paul Stookey in 1961 in the Village. He got her up on the stage again. Shortly Peter joined the duo to make it a trio of folk-singers that are now known throughout the country.

"We are a cosmopolitan group," says Peter of the trio. "It would be dishonest for us to imitate the folk singing style of any particular ethnic group. But our urban background is an asset. We can present in a modern musical form the feelings of many ethnic groups, and do it with integrity."

Peter, Paul, and Mary are not the usual looking folk-singing trio. Peter and Paul have been described as "the two young men who know how to wear Brooks Brothers' suits with their beards and guitars."

Mary has been called the "tall silky blonde who believes in looking as good as she sounds."

The presentation of Peter, Paul, and Mary is made possible through the efforts of the Special Features Committee. Gloria L. DiCicco is chairman.

Thieves Steal Kohl's Tree

By Horace Coleman
NEWS Reporter

Missing: one Christmas tree. Description: green with pine needles and upswipe branches.

The dastardly deed of tree-napping deprived Kohl Hall of a Christmas tree. The tree had a slight dogleg left in its trunk, was setting in the upstairs lounge of Kohl Hall. Between 1:30 and 7:30 a.m. Thursday morning, the tree was removed by unknown heart-breakers.

All that remained of Kohl's wonderful $5 tree was a trail of pine needles and foot prints in the snow, headed east on Wooster Street.

Head Resident Richard Towner, who had at first thought the tree-napping was a prank pulled by residents of the dormitory, attempted to follow the spoor. He lost the trail when a snowplow came along and cleared the sidewalks.

Because the residents of Kohl had planned to decorate the tree at a party with the residents of Shatzel last Friday evening, the deed was particularly vicious.

University Police Urge Safe Driving

The University police department urges all motorists to exercise care and consideration of others if they are driving home for the Christmas vacation.

In order to eliminate congestion, students are urged to pack as many of their belongings as possible before the Friday rush, if they are going home via campus transportation.

It was noted by the police that the area around the Founders Quadrangle east loading dock has become congested immediately preceding vacation periods. If students must use the area for loading at these busy times, the police ask that they consider others and not leave cars parked in the zone for any other purpose.

Allan J. Gailbraith, assistant to the chief of security, extends seasons greetings on behalf of the police department, to all persons connected with the University.

Rodgers Vote To Decide Council Posts

The men of Rodgers Quadrangle will elect five permanent members of the Rodgers Administrative Council today.

Of these five men, one will represent each floor of Rodgers, and one will represent Rodgers Northwest. Kurt Zimmerman, program director of men's residences, reports that these men have picked up petitions from Rodgers Head Resident Don E. Cook, and will be campaigning for floor representative.

From Rodgers first floor are: Robert J. Fowler, and Kenneth L. Villard;

From the second floor are: John P. Ashelman, Roger B. Buttell III, Dale L. Jensvold, Paul L. Johnson, Mark F. Perencevic, David S. Seltzer, and Roger W. Wilson;

From the third floor are: John G. Katecki, Jerry L. Richardson, and James H. Seesholtz;

From the fourth floor are: Paul A. Gully and Bruce S. Weiner;

And from Rodgers Northwest: Frank G. Anderson, David M. Chonko, Robert J. Myers, and Lawrence K. Smith.

The officers of Founders Quadrangle have already been elected in each dormitory.

Harmon Hall officers are Evelyn K. Rogers, president; Charlotte J. Lind, vice-president; Marjorie L. Wells, secretary; Bonnie J. Glasser, treasurer; and Barbara J. Kinsman, scholarship chairman.

Corridor representatives for the dormitory are Barbara A. Dallas, ground; Barbara J. Sutton, second; Barbara-A. Ann Froelich, third; Helen R. Golinick, fourth; and Cheryl F. Hill, fifth.

Officers have been elected by the women of Mooney Hall. They are Sally A. Althoff, president; Melissa M. Bland, vice-president; Mary Lou Arcus, secretary; and Carol F. Cotterman, treasurer.

The women of Treadway Hall elected the following officers: Linda J. Peiblow, president; Karen Britenbaker, vice-president; Sue A. Rohrs, secretary; and Patricia Oppermann, treasurer.

Elected by the women of Lowry Hall were the following officers: C. Camille Sell, president; Peggy R. Quilter, vice-president; Jacqueline L. Spelman, secretary; and Ann L. Tibbits, treasurer.

Library Recess Hours

"The Library will be open during most of the Christmas period for the convenience of students and faculty," announced A. Robert Rogers, acting director of the Library.

The Library will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday; Monday through Friday, Dec. 21; Thursday, Dec. 27; and Friday, Dec. 28.

Regular Library hours will resume Wednesday, Jan. 2.

Council To Hear Amendments On Student Representation

Greater student representation will be at stake at Thursday night's Student Council meeting, President J. David Hunger said yesterday.

An amendment to lower the required minimum point average from a 3.0 to 2.7 for Student Council officers, positions on the gress and in most organizations, this is standard operating procedure."

The amendment to lower point averages to a 2.7 for executive positions must be passed at three consecutive monthly meetings by a three-fourths vote.

"Student Council meetings are open to the public. If students neither talk to their representatives nor attend Council, only mediocre student government will result. Just as Student Council members have the obligation of representing the student body, so too, every student on this campus has the duty of making his views known to them," Hunger said.

Falcons Win 2nd Straight

Bowling Green, currently ranked ninth in the nation, by UPI, trounced Western Ontario 97-46 last night in Memorial Hall.

The Falcons got off to a 29-8 lead with less than 10 minutes gone in the game and were never in any trouble in their second straight win.

Nate Thurmond, all-American candidate, scored 21 points to lead both clubs. Butch Komives, runner-up with 16 points, and Elijah Chatman with 12, also were in double figures. Wavey Junior had only six points, but his alert defensive play and his feeding ability was just as valuable to the team as points. Pat Haley took only four shots, but he made two and scored six points.

Western's leading scorer was Tom Williamson, with 12 points. The Falcon reserves, who almost hit the 100-point mark for the second straight game, played loose but enthusiastic ball, and the Bowling Green bench may prove to be Coach Harold Anderson's "secret weapon" in future games. Lyle Pepin, with nine points and Bob Dwors with four looked good, but the entire bench did its share.

Bowling Green shot a blistering .551 from the field, to Western's .326, but was outshot from the free throw line .727 to .647.

Most of the first and second-string freshmen traveled to Detroit last night and were edged 73-72. The third and fourth teams stayed home and beat the Findlay JV's 85-54.

To the Editor:

Finally, with regard to the statement that the U.S. Government has never been a champion of Democracy unless it was expedient to us, I would call attention to some points made in a recent editorial appearing in a popular magazine. The U.S. is not perfect, no one would attempt to refute that. Perhaps, though, it would be valid reasoning to keep in mind that all nations make mistakes and in any comparison, there has been no other nation in history that has come close to matching the decent idealism the U.S. has established in world affairs. We did more than our share in W.W. II to keep freedom within humanity. We poured resources and money into Europe after the war in an effort to rebuild foreign lands. We continue to pour wealth and manpower into underdeveloped countries in an attempt to make a better world. We

Falcons Open Title Defense With Tomorrow's Miami Game

The Falcons will open defense of their Mid-American Conference championship when they meet the Miami Redskins tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall.

This year's Miami team is a young and inexperienced one, in fact, there are no seniors on the squad. Obviously, this is a rebuilding year for Miami, and the Redskins are working toward a MAC championship next season.

However, in their first four games, the Redskins performed surprisingly well. They opened against Findlay and defeated the Oilers 64-56. Then they upset a veteran Eastern Kentucky team 65-64. Last week they traveled to Cincinnati to meet the defending NCAA champions. Although losing 58-36 to the number-one-ranked Bearcats, the Redskins were behind by only 10 points at the half, and the final margin of victory for Cincy was the closest any Bearcat opponent has come this season. Saturday Miami beat Marshall 67-48.

There are no real "stars" in the Miami line-up, but these are some of the names to look for. The Red-skin center, 6'7" Charley Dinkins, scored 20 points against Eastern, and nine against the Bearcats. The lone returning veteran for Miami is 6'5" junior Bob Moon, at forward, but he only averaged 5.1 points per game last year and he hasn't been scoring much this season. At the other forward position is 6'7" Jeff Gehring, who scored eight points against Cincinnati. In the backcourt are 6' Skip Snow and 6'2" Charley Coles. Snow had 14 points in the Eastern game and nine against the Bearcats. Coles had 11 in both games.

These are the key figures, but sophomores including 5'8" John Swann, 6'2" John Gehring, 6'6" Tom Johnson and 6'6" Larry Emrick, dominate the bench.

Coach Dick Shrider was expecting to age pretty quickly, using sophomores in the lineup, but after the Eastern Kentucky game he commented, "It might not be such a long winter after all. I thought we had an awful lot of poise."

The Falcons have won six of the past seven games with the Redskins, after losing 10 straight from 1954-55 to 1958-59. Last season, the Falcons easily won both games with Miami, winning here, 85-73, and routing the Redskins at Oxford 94-61.

Nate Thurmond has had some of his best performances against Miami. In four games, he has scored 73 points and retrieved 77 rebounds. His Bowling Green team record of 28 rebounds came against Miami two years ago. Kovich scored 45 points in the two games last year, but his defensive work was even more impressive.

Jerry Jackson, 6'3" junior, and Dave Roberts, 6'2" senior, should open at guard. Jackson, playing in a forward position last season, set a sophomore scoring record of 363 points.

At forward, it will be Paul Sorety, 6'5" junior, and Don Hilt, 6'4" sophomore. Both can do the job offensively and defensively.

At center will be Stacy Bunton, 6'10" captain of this year's Bobcat team. Bunton has been a disappointment in most of his meetings with the Falcons.

Last year, BG won 62-61 at Athens, then beat the Bobcats 83-58 here to clinch the MAC title. The Falcons lead in the series between the schools, 17-13.

Ohio opened its season losing to a strong Louisville club, 59-54. The Bobcats will play St. Bonaventure, Creighton and Cincinnati, during the month of December, so they will have had plenty of competition before the meeting with the Falcons.

BG To Host Findlay Team

The Falcon wrestlers host the Findlay Oilers in a dual meet Thursday. Bowling Green leads Findlay in the series between the schools, 9-5-2.

Falcon coach, Bruce Bellard stated, "We may be in a bit of trouble." Eric Braun, the regular 157-pound starter is out with a shoulder injury. He will probably miss this match, and will be replaced by Bill Regnier. The Falcons may be unable to compete in the heavyweight division. Ron Kreuger is out with an illness, and Coach Bellard has no replacement for him.

"Findlay had a good team last year, and is expected to improve, from what we can gather." Coach Bellard added, "Findlay is perennially a wrestling power in this part of the country." The Oilers are led by two-year-lettermen Dick Macaluse, and coach Joe Smith has hopes of improving over last year's good season. Bowling Green last wrestled Findlay two years ago, and defeated them.

There will be no seniors in the sophomore-studded Falcon lineup against Findlay. Sophomores Bill Proutz, Bob Maurer, and Nick Del Pizzo will start at 123, 130, and 137 pounds respectively. Don Merrick, 147 pounds, Bill Regnier, 157 pounds, Joe Barnard, 167 pounds, and sophomore Dennis Sherman, at 177 pounds will also start for the Falcons.

Stranded Tankers Miss MAC Relays

Bowling Green's swimmers, stranded by heavy snowfall, were unable to defend their Mid-American Conference Relays crown at Western Michigan Saturday.

Miami's Redskins, scoring 73 points, captured the meet. Western Michigan came in second with 66 points, and Kent was third with 56 points. Ohio U. also did not attend because of the snow storm.

Falcon swimming coach Sam Cooper was disappointed that his tankers couldn't compete, as they were seeking their seventh championship in 10 years.

"The relays officials, in all fairness to Miami and Kent who had made the long trip to Western, could not postpone the meet," said Coach Cooper. "I only question whether the meet, with just three teams participating, should be called the MAC Relays."

The Falcons will hold an intrasquad meet Thursday evening in the Natatorium. Next intercollegiate contest will be held with Detroit Tech Jan 10, at Bowling Green.

Nate Thurmond has been named the first team all-American center by Sport Magazine.

As I See It

Writer Picks Falcons To Win MAC Title

By Jim Kleckner
NEWS Sports Editor

There's no doubt about it. The Falcons are overwhelming favorites to win their second straight Mid-American Conference basketball title this season. This writer agrees — the Falcons will take it all. However, if Bowling Green lets up at all there are three, and possibly four teams that could give them trouble.

Toledo, Ohio University and Western Michigan all have good, if not great teams this year, and Miami has a young crew that has shown a great deal of promise in its first four games. Marshall and Kent State should bring up the rear in the standings.

The Rockets were considered the team with the best chance of upsetting the Falcons before a tragic accident to their leading scorer the past two seasons. Larry Jones, the 6'2" senior fell and broke his wrist during the Rocket's opening game win over Butler. Jones scored 35 points in the game, as if to show just how much he meant to Toledo's hopes this year.

Now he's out, and after Toledo's 73-61 loss to Villanova Saturday night, it looks as though his presence will be sorely missed. Ray Wolford, with 30 points against Villanova, and sophomore Jim Cox, who scored 16 points look like the men to try and take up the slack. They can't do it alone, however.

Ohio U. though losing its first two games to strong Louisville and St. Bonaventure clubs, has a promising team that should improve as the season goes along. The Bobcats have one outstanding performer in Jerry Jackson, who set an Ohio U. scoring record as a sophomore last year. Stacy Bunton, 6'10" center is going to have to show a great deal more scoring ability, plus defensive ability this year, if the Bobcats are going to be a threat for the MAC title.

Western Michigan has Manny

Newsome and that may be enough. Newsome was the conference scoring champ last year, averaging more than 24 points a game. Two other Broncos that should help the Western cause are 6'5" Bill Street, 15.2 points per game, and a 6'4" sophomore Ajac Triplett, who averaged 22 points per game for the frosh.

Coach Harold Anderson calls the Miami Redskins the "darkhorse of the conference" and off their performance so far, he may be right. Miami didn't look too impressive in an opening-season win over Findlay, but then upset Eastern Kentucky by one point, lost to national champion Cincinnati by 22, no disgrace, and blasted Marshall 67-48 last Saturday. The Redskins are a young team, there are no seniors on the squad, and should improve as the season progresses.

Perhaps the best of the sophomores is 6'7" Jeff Gehring who scored 25 points against Marshall and looks like a player to watch. He'll improve with experience.

Marshall and Kent State should battle it out for the cellar again this year. The Big Green usually is only as good as 6'3" senior guard Micky Sydenstricker, who averaged 18.1 points per game last season.

Kent State's strength lies in its guards. Dennis Klug averaged 15 points per game last season, and Tyler Saunders, 10 points. The other positions on the team are pretty weak, and without some improvement in the front court, the Golden Flashes will suffer through another disappointing year.

One thing is important to remember when considering the Falcons' chances against any of these teams. As is true in basketball in general, it is extremely difficult to win on the road in the Mid-Am. The Falcons came up with some close victories last year, and they were the key to the MAC championship.

BG To Meet W. Michigan, Ohio U., Western Kentucky

The special Christmas issue of the NEWS will feature the Quaker City Tournament, and the NEWS will not be published again until Jan. 7. During this period, the Falcons will play three games.

They will meet Western Kentucky Saturday night. BG will play host to Western Michigan Jan. 2, the day before classes begin. BG then will entertain Ohio University Jan. 5. Here are rundowns on each of those teams.

Western Kentucky

The Falcons travel to Bowling Green, Ky., to meet the Hilltoppers in a game Sports Illustrated calls one of the three toughest on the Falcon schedule. (The others are the DePaul and St. John's games.)

No coach in the nation has more wins than Ed Diddle, and he is one of the reasons the Hilltoppers are always a threat. In his lifetime, Diddle has won 749 games, while losing only 270 for a .735 percentage.

Diddle describes this year's team as having "slightly improved speed, fine shooting, not much size, but plenty of scrap and hustle."

The Hilltoppers have three starters back, but the two men they lost were good ones. Gone is Bobby Rascoe, an all-American and all-Ohio Valley guard, and Harry Todd, an all-Ohio Valley center.

Returning is Jim Dunn, a 6'5" forward who averaged 12.3 points per game last year, 6'4" forward Bobby Jackson, 13.3 points, and Darel Carrier, a 6'2" guard, who averaged 13.7 points. Senior Warner Caines 6'7", sophomore Ray Keeton 6'6" and sophomore Glenn Marcum 6'7", are vying for the starting berth at center. Six guards, some up from the freshman ranks, some from the reserves, will battle it out for the other guard position.

Last season's club was 17-10, (11-1 in the OVC), and went to the NCAA.

This is the last year the Hilltoppers will be playing in their present fieldhouse. Next season they will move into a new, 8,000 seat structure. They may be reluctant to leave. The Hilltopper record in the old fieldhouse?—298 wins, only 29 losses. That's where the Falcons are playing Saturday night.

The game will be broadcast at

Sharp, Poling To Present Vocal, Piano Recital Jan. 6

Two University students will present a joint recital at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 6, in the recital hall.

Saundra P. Sharp, soprano from Cleveland, is a student of Warren S. Allen, associate professor of music. Ann M. Poling, a pianist from Van Wert, is a student of Harvey D. Wedeen, instructor in music. She also will provide piano accompaniment for Miss Sharp.

Vocal numbers for the evening include "Se Tu M'ami" by Pergolesi; "Spaggetti Amate" from "Parsis and Helen" by C. W. Gluck; "Let Me Wander Not Unseen" from "L'Allegro" by Handel; "Berguerettes" arranged by Weckerlin; "Romance" by Debussy; "Steal Me Sweet Thief" from "The Old Main" by Memottli, "Un Bel Di" (One Fine Day) from "Madame Butterfly" by Puccini; and "I Hate Music" by Leonard Bernstein.

"The Bernstein composition is a cycle of five kid songs for a soprano voice," said Miss Sharp.

Miss Poling will play "Sonata," Opus 120, in A by Schubert; "La puerta del vino" by Debussy; "Nocturne," Opus 32, No. 1 by Chopin; and "Valse Oubliee" by Franz Liszt.

Miss Sharp was soprano soloist with the Toledo Jewish Concert Orchestra in excerpts of Porgy and Bess in May, 1962. She also sang popular, blues, and jazz songs as a vocalist with the Bobby Haskins Combo.

Elevator Shaft Drilling Disturbs Kohl Sleepers

For the last 10 days, the occupants of Kohl Hall have been awakened by a steady, rhythmic pounding that seems to shake the very foundations of the building.

The source of all the noise centers around the construction of a freight elevator shaft in the new addition of Kohl Hall, which will be ready for use in the near future.

The elevator is to be a standard hydraulic type with a capacity of 2,000 pounds, similar to the one now in use in South Hall.
